

CONTENTS

Foreword	11
Acknowledgments	13
Introduction: What is the book about?	15
I. Theoretical background	25
1. Innovation	27
1.1. Innovation in the European context	27
1.2. The changing nature of innovation	34
1.3. Innovation in the service economy	36
1.4. From managed to entrepreneurial economy	42
2. Social determinants of innovation	43
2.1. Escape from technological determinism	43
2.2. Contribution from economics of innovation	47
2.3. Contribution from the social capital theory	51
3. Innovation culture	53
3.1. The general framework for studying innovation culture	53
3.2. The concept of organizational innovation culture	63
4. The concepts of the national culture	70
4.1. A brief overview of Inglehart's theory with a reference to Croatia	73
4.2. A brief overview of Schwartz's theory with a reference to Croatia	76
4.3. A brief overview of Trompenaars' and Hampden-Turner's theory with a reference to Croatia	82
4.4. A brief overview of the GLOBE project	88
4.5. A brief overview of Hofstede's model	90
4.5.1. Apologists and critics	90
4.5.2. Hofstede's dimensions in brief	95
4.5.3. Characteristics of Croatia according to Hofstede's cultural dimensions	102
4.6. National culture and the ability to innovate	107
5. Regional innovation culture	119
5.1. The role of regions in the European Union	119

5.2. The concept of the regional innovation system	122
5.3. The concept of regional innovation culture	124
5.4. Region as a unit of cross-cultural analyses	127
5.5. A note on the regions and regional cultural differences in Croatia	131
II. Empirical research	139
6. Introduction	141
6.1. Purpose and aim of research	142
6.2. Conceptual model	144
6.3. Methodology, data collection and sample	148
6.4. Results	151
6.4.1. Description of the regions by Hofstede's dimensions of national culture	151
6.4.2. Description of the regions by pro-innovation and innovation-adverse cultural dimensions	156
6.4.3. Exploration of Hofstede's cultural dimensions and innovation and entrepreneurship capacities of the regions ..	163
6.4.4. Dimensions of national culture by socio-demographic characteristics	164
6.5. Discussion and conclusions	170
III. An alternative approach to studying innovation culture	177
7. And now what? Let's move beyond Hofstede's model and see what Croatian scholars have to say	179
7.1. Path dependence theories	180
7.1.1. Egalitarian syndrome and imprinting theory	183
7.2. Croatian type of capitalism	188
7.3. A note about corruption	191
8. Epilogue: Is there a pilot in the plane?	197
Annex: Questions from the VSM 2013	203
References	207
About the authors	229
Index	231

List of tables

Table 1: The most popular models of national cultures and their respective dimensions	71
Table 2: Mean scores on cultural value orientations for each of the world cultural regions	77
Table 3: Comparison of some ad-hoc constructed Croatian value orientation according to Hofstede's and Schwartz's models ...	80
Table 4: An overview of cross-cultural studies of national propensity to innovation based on Hofstede's cultural dimensions	110
Table 5: The distribution of counties by regions	133
Table 6: Sample description	149
Table 7: Comparisons of regions by the values for cultural dimensions in relation to the Croatian average (above or below the Croatian average) and with a focus on pro-innovation and innovation-adverse dimensions	161
Table 8: The descriptive statistics and correlation matrix for the variables	165

List of figures

Figure 1: Inglehart-Welzel Cultural Map of the World: Cultural map – WVS wave 6 (2010 – 2014).....	74
Figure 2: Cultural value orientations: theoretical structure by Schwartz ..	77
Figure 3: Map of 77 national groups on seven cultural orientations by Schwartz.....	78
Figure 4: An example of GLOBE Analysis: Managerial Perspectives in the United States and Brazil	90
Figure 5: Regions by GDP p/c and Development index, 2012 and 2013	143
Figure 6: Conceptual model of research.....	147
Figure 7: Croatia by regions.....	151
Figure 8: Counties by GDP p/c, 2013 (in HRK).....	151
Figure 9: Cultural dimensions by regions	152
Figure 10: Regions by cultural dimensions.....	157
Figure 11: Values of the national cultural dimensions by regions: comparison	157
Figure 12: a-g. The Relationship between cultural dimensions by regions.....	162
Figure 13: Cultural dimensions by gender.....	166
Figure 14: Cultural dimensions by age.....	167
Figure 15: Cultural dimensions by religiosity.....	168
Figure 16: Cultural dimensions by main political orientation.....	169
Figure 17: Cultural dimensions by job status.....	170
Figure 18: Comparison of Hofstede's dimensions of national culture in selected post-socialist and "old" Western-type countries	171